Who Won US Election?

This was a question we asked in our last issue.
President Trump's Homeland policies on tariffs and immigration control seemed positive, but have incited riots and legal challenges in the US..
His overseas policies have been much clearer. With the Trump administration being the most pro-Zionist for many years ... What Israel wants ... Israel gets!
Israel's attack in Gaza, have turned 82% of the buildings into rubble. Schools, hospitals and civilian homes have all been devastated by Israeli shelling and air attacks. An estimated 48,200 civilians have been killed, 16,000 of these are children! The United Nations and the International Red Cross have described Israeli actions as "Genocide". , Britain, Canada, Australia and most of the European Union have condemned the attacks, but the United States SAYS NOTHING!
As we go to print, Israel has begun a bombing campaign against Iran. Astonishingly, Trump has ordered the US Air force to join the campaign and several Iranian targets have already been hit by US forces.
To Keir Starmer we say, this war is NOT our war....
MIND BRITAIN'S BUSINESS!

Migration

Mass migration into Britain is rapidly progressing from a major problem to a nightmare. Under this Labour government 25% of all crimes are being committed by migrants. Sexual assaults and rape against young white girls are being committed by Asian migrants who claim this behaviour is acceptable in their culture!
We MUST fight back!

Sorry!

Once again we must apologise for the delay in producing this issue. Because of our problems we had to scrap the Spring issue and move direct to this Summer issue. As your subscription is based on 4 issues you will not lose out.
Hopefully we will soon get back to normal.

Massive Increase in Migrant Costs

Benefits Bill Up By One Third

The Department for Work and Pensions has revealed that the annual benefits bill for migrants has soared to £1.1 billion. Up by one third in just one year!

Asylum seekers accommodation, including hotels, is costing British taxpayers £4 million every day. According to the Home Office, the number of migrants seeking asylum who are accommodated by the state has increased from 47,000 in 2019 to 110,000 in December 2024.

Hotel Accommodation for Asylum Seekers Cost £4 million a day!

In addition, a further 66,000 migrants are being housed in self-contained houses and flats and 4000 failed asylum seekers were still being provided with accommodation whilst they wait for a deportation date.
Illegal migration has surged under Labour with small boat arrivals across the Channel at over 16,000 so far this year, compared with 8,600 at the same point in 2024. Asylum claims have also increased under the Labour government, hitting over 108,000 last year, the highest number since records began in 1979.

Illegal Migration has surged under Labour.

Since 2024, 946,000 foreign nationals living in Britain on work or student visas have been allowed to stay on after their visas have expired.
A further 172,000 were granted, "indefinite leave to remain" and an additional 270,000 were granted British citizenship"!

Finally, as Labour continues to promise to "smash the smuggling gangs" it was revealed that on May 30th 2025, 1,100 migrants arrived on small boats in just ONE DAY!

GAZA GENOCIDE

The "Holocaust" Continues

Despite a supposed ceasefire agreed between Israel and Gaza earlier this year, Israel continues its "Holocaust" against Gaza and the Palestinian people.

For the first time since the conflict began, Israel has admitted its intention to annex Gaza into a "Greater Israel! Displacing the Palestinian occupants!

Benjamin Netanyahu, Israel's prime minister, has said a new "intensified" offensive in Gaza, will involve Israeli troops holding on to seized territory and significant displacement of the population.

Speaking after officials said Israel's security cabinet had approved a plan for "conquering" the Gaza Strip and establishing a "sustained presence" there, Netanyahu posted a video on X in which he said Israeli soldiers would not go into Gaza, launch raids and then retreat.

Israeli Soldiers Celebrate the Killing of More Palestinian Women and Children

"The intention is the opposite of that," he said. "Gaza's Population will be moved, for its own protection."

A United Nations Special envoy reported, "Since the end of the ceasefire on the 18th of March, 1,309 children have reportedly been killed and 3,738 injured. In total, more than 50,000 children have reportedly been killed or injured since October 2023.

"These children are now part of a long, harrowing list of unimaginable horrors: the grave violations against children, the blockade of aid, the starvation, the constant forced displacement, and the destruction of hospitals, water systems, schools, and homes.

In essence, the destruction of Palestinian life itself in the Gaza Strip!

On May 8, the UN published data showing 34,844 people had reportedly been killed, including 4,959 women and 7,797 children. Despite these horrific figures, Israeli airstrikes continue to target schools, hospitals and tented accommodation in Gaza. A UN official reported that "on 27 May 2025 – "In a 72-hour period images from two horrific attacks provide yet more evidence of the unconscionable cost of this ruthless war on children in the Gaza Strip. "On Friday, we saw videos of the bodies of burnt, dismembered children from the al-Najjar family being pulled from the rubble of their home in Khan Younis. Of 10 siblings under 12 years old, only one reportedly survived, with critical injuries.

"Early Monday, we saw images of a small child trapped in a burning school in Gaza City. That attack, in the early hours of the morning, reportedly killed 31 people, including 18 children.

Britain and several European nations condemned the Israeli actions but merely put sanctions on two Israeli politicians. To his eternal shame, US President Trump emphasised the US "stood shoulder to shoulder with Israel".

GAZA GENOCIDE 2

"This is the fastest starvation campaign in modern history,"

In addition to Israeli military attacks, Gazans face the 'fastest starvation campaign in Gaza in modern history' according to a United Nations envoy.

"How is Israel able to starve 2.3 million people so quickly and so completely?" asked a UN envoy in a joint press briefing alongside other UN special rapporteurs in Geneva. "This is the fastest starvation campaign in modern history," As the entry of all humanitarian aid into Gaza is stopped by Israel, he said: "This is not a ceasefire by any definition. This is a slowing down of military violence, but unfolding of death through starvation."

Famine in Gaza

In addition to the concerns raised by the United Nations, the head of the World Health Organization (WHO) warns famine is moving closer in Gaza after Israel blocked the necessary entry of aid for over 12 weeks.

A new, and controversial entrant into the Gaza aid community is the "Gaza Humanitarian Aid Foundation". Founded in the USA, the foundation is funded from US and Israeli sources.

A United Nations spokesman declared that the UN will not participate in Israel and the US's mooted Gaza Humanitarian Foundation mechanism of delivering aid, which has been criticised for not being impartial, neutral or independent. He continued, "we have also been very clear that we will not participate in the Gaza Humanitarian Foundation process because it does not meet our principles," he said.

The President of French-based charity, Medicins du Monde, which operates in Gaza, says a scheme to place aid distribution in the hands of the Gaza Humanitarian Foundation is meant to advance Israel's plans to depopulate the Strip. He maintained that, "the foundation is operating for American and Israeli authorities [and] working for this project to support the massive deportation of the population which is planned by these authorities".

Also being called into question is the Foundations procedure of announcing the opening of a food aid centre in a "safe zone" only to see Israeli soldiers shooting and killing many of those seeking aid.

"Weaponising Starvation"

Since its operations began, more than 274 Palestinians have been killed and hundreds more wounded while seeking food at distribution sites, which are guarded by US private military contractors and overseen by Israeli forces. Last week, the UN said it would not take part in the US-backed effort, saying it seems to be facilitating "Weaponising starvation!

Identity Crisis

One Third of Babies Born Last Year in Britain were to Migrant Mothers

For the second year running, foreign-born Mothers gave birth to almost one third of all babies born in Britain.
According to the Office for National Statistics, 403,000 babies were born to ethnic British mothers in 2023, with almost 188,000 being born to foreign-born mothers.

Indian-born mothers lead the list of foreigners, with over 21,500 births in the UK in 2023.
Pakistan-born mothers delivered 17,700 babies in the UK with mums from Romania, delivering 13,700 and Nigerian mothers delivering 12,300!

One Million Migrants Living in Britain Cannot speak English

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) working with Census returns has revealed that 932,000 migrants living in Britain cannot speak adequate English. Of these, 137,000 don't speak ANY English at all!

Proof of English language proficiency is required for some visas such as being classed as a skilled worker, or a visa to study, yet only 51% of migrants over the age of 16 speak English as their main language.
Migrant applications for asylum, along with the countless appeals are all processed by translators, funded by the British taxpayer.

One in 12 "Londoners" is an Illegal Migrant

London is home to as many as 585,000 illegal migrants, a report has claimed.
The estimate - the equivalent to one in 12 of the city's population - comes in a study commissioned by Thames Water. According to the data between 390,355 and 585,533 people in London would be considered illegal migrants as per the study.
The report suggests most illegal migrants arrived in the UK on work, study or visitor visas and then overstay.

Migration experts suggested that the figures could be an underestimate as some of the underlying data dates from 2017, before the surge in migrants crossing the Channel.
According to the Joint Council for the Welfare of Immigrants, the majority of illegal migrants in the UK initially came here legally before their situation changed.

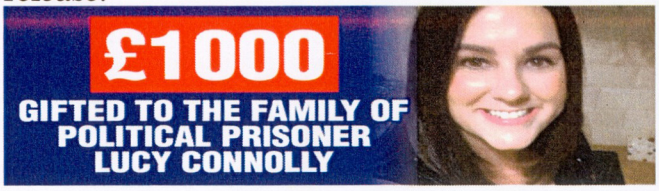
PA Supports Lucy Connolly

Lucy Connolly, who is the wife of Conservative councillor Ray Connolly, was handed a 31-month sentence after admitting posting an online rant about migrants hours after killer Axel Rudakubana murdered three young girls on July 29 last year. The former childminder deleted the post after four hours, but was arrested in August and pleaded guilty to a charge of inciting racial hatred in October.

PA has donated £1000 to the family of Lucy to support them and plan for Lucy's eventual release.



The Tide will turn Comrades, the Tide will turn

By: PA

As regular readers will know I only ever write the historical truth about National Socialism. I deal in the facts of the Movement, not in the "flights of fancy" of post-war revisionists (I think we can leave that to the main stream media can't we?), but this article is going to be slightly different.

Adolf Hitler

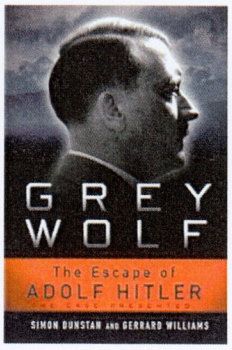
The claim that the Führer escaped his Berlin bunker to live incognito in Argentina first gained popular currency when Stalin stated, after World War 2: "Almost certainly Hitler escaped to Argentina". Why did Stalin say this? Was it "To add fuel to the 'Cold War' of words.... he knew Hitler was dead, but a statement like that added weight to the myth that Hitler escaped, and that was an embarrassment to the West, as it implied the West was hiding him" or was it because, to quote Laine Frajberg, "Stalin was a pathological liar. And he lied about everything. Probably he was just trying to sow confusion amongst his former allies when he hinted that Hitler had escaped". As this psychopathic, paranoid, mass murdering Communist died in 1953, we will never know the truth, and therefore can only speculate as to his reasons.

What we do know (as fact) is that Argentina was already home to hundreds of thousands of German immigrants, and had maintained close ties to Germany during the War. After 1945 the Argentine President, Juan Perón, enlisted intelligence officers and diplomats to help establish escape routes via Spanish and Italian ports for many fleeing National Socialists including: SS Lieutenant Colonel Adolf Eichmann; SS Officer and Physician Josef Mengele; SS Colonel Walter Rauff; SS Commandant Josef Schwammberger; SS Commander Eric Priebke and Dr Gerhard Bohne.

The stories of their daring escapes and, in some cases, future arrest and execution will have to be told another day.

Inalco House

But was there any chance that the Führer was with them and he did indeed die in Inalco House, near Haupi Lake, Argentina on 13 February 1962, according to the 2011 book 'Grey Wolf: The Escape of Adolf Hitler' by British authors Simon Dunstan and Gerrard Williams?



'Grey Wolf' was adapted as a 'docudrama' film in 2014, and the book and the film were given extensive coverage in the British media. The basic story is that the Führer did not die in his Berlin bunker in 1945 but escaped, along with his wife Eva Braun, her brother-in-law Hermann Fegelein and several National Socialist officials to Argentina.

Hitler's escape was organised by Martin Bormann, who also fled to Argentina, where he posed as a businessman in Buenos Aires and was aided and abetted by the Government of Juan Perón. The film also alleges that US intelligence agencies were aware that Hitler was in Argentina, and that significant funds were taken from Germany to Argentina and that these were later stolen by Bormann. The book/film alleges that Hitler died alone, poor and mentally ill on 13 February 1962, at the age of 73 after suffering a heart attack. Leaving behind his estranged wife (who was reputed to be alive in 2008 at age 96), and at least one child.

All well and good! Obviously the Führer's story couldn't have a happy ending, even if 'Grey Wolf' was, according to British historian, Guy Walters; "Two thousand per cent rubbish. It's an absolute disgrace. There's no substance to it at all. It appeals to the deluded fantasies of conspiracy theorists and has no place whatsoever in historical research". In both the book and promotional material for the film, it was stated in reference to eyewitness accounts of Hitler being in Argentina that "It is the words of these witnesses, on a tape given to us by the papers' editorial director Ricardo D'Aloia that has contributed to the findings in this book". The paper in question was 'Ambito Financiero', and its editorial director, Ricardo D'Aloia had 4this to say; "In order to clarify the fact that the statement is not at all true. I hope you will understand that I do not appreciate in any way having been named in your publication, and so involved in such an unpleasant episode with which I have absolutely no relation to". We may take it from this that Senõr D'Aloia was not best pleased.

Finally, after years of speculation about his whereabouts, Martin Bormann's remains were conclusively identified in Germany in 1998 by genetic testing on fragments of his skull. He had been fatally wounded by the Red Army in May 1945 on a bridge near the railway shunting yard at Lehrter Station. So I think we can safely dismiss 'Grey Wolf' as fiction, and live with the fact that the Führer died in the Berlin bunker as the Slavic hordes advanced on the German capital.

Martin Bormann

So what is the point of this article you may be wondering? Simply this: There is an obsession amongst our detractors about National Socialism. You can't turn the television on without another "nasty Nazis" documentary hitting the screen (seemingly) daily, fifty-two weeks a year. But, and this is the big but, it is proving counter-productive.

Everybody in the Western World knows of Adolf Hitler and National Socialism. Do 'they' think that, as the Nations of Europe and of European heritage sink lower into the mire, an alternative will not be sought by the masses? When the twin Internationals (Capitalism and Communism) can no longer provide the standard of living people desire (demand?), do 'they' not realise that Europeans will look increasingly to one of their own; to Adolf Hitler, the man whose political party turned Germany from the "sick man of Europe", into the greatest hope the Aryan Race has ever had?

As the editor of 'White Worker' has recently stated; "It never ceases to amaze me how often the word 'Nazi' gets used, or 'Hitler' in the media....it's a weekly occurrence or more".

Makes you think...hmmm...maybe those Nazis were on to something". Maybe they were?

The tide will turn Comrades, the tide will turn.

AfD Declared "Extremists" by German Authorities

Germany

Germany's Alternative für Deutschland (AfD) party has been designated as an extremist group by the country's "Federal Office for the Protection of the Constitution".

The Nationalist AfD had already been placed under observation for suspected extremism and the intelligence agency had also classed it as extremist in three states in the east, where its voter support is highest.
The agency, or Verfassungsschutz, said specifically that the AfD did not consider citizens of a "migration background" as equal members of the German people and was therefore "racist"!
The AfD came second in federal elections in February, winning a record 152 seats in the 630-seat parliament with 20.8% of the vote.

said the decision was "clearly politically motivated" and a "severe blow to German democracy". They argued their party was being "discredited and criminalised" shortly before the change of government.

France Considers Ban on "Hijab"

Following a report on the dangers of "growing political Islamism" in France, the government are considering banning girls under the age of 15 from wearing the hijab in public.

Muslim Hijab

A government spokesman said, "the Muslim headscarf seriously undermines gender equality and the protection of children". Parents who force their underage daughters to wear the veil would face criminal charges of coercion. A new law banning the wearing of the headscarf in domestic sport competitions is also being sought.
Switzerland banned the wearing of the Muslim burqa in public in January this year.

Denmark

Government Clampdown on Migrants

Denmark used to have a reputation throughout the world as a liberal haven known for welcoming foreigners. However, this image has changed drastically in the past few years, as a series of new policies have made the nation unattractive for migrants and refugees.

The initial changes that were introduced to Denmark's immigration system under the current government since 2019 reflect policies also observed elsewhere in Europe: Family reunification rules were tightened, deportation practices were increased, and social benefit payments for asylum seekers were lowered.

Other immigration laws introduced in the country are regarded as rather unprecedented: For example, guards along the country's fortified borders are allowed to confiscate all personal items of value from irregular migrants crossing the border to help fund the costs associated with asylum procedures as well as housing. Any item valued at more than 1,300 euros -- including jewelry, watches and even wedding rings -- can be taken away under the law!

Another major shift introduced by the government is a major downgrading of failed asylum seekers: If an asylum application is rejected, there are no more monetary benefits paid. Failed asylum seekers only receive food but no money at all. In cases where the deportation of failed asylum seekers is feasible and practicable, another new law now specifies that they are to be transferred. to prison-like detention facilities. (Below)

Migrant practices viewed as infringing on Danish culture, such as the wearing of the burka or hijab in public are banned. Fines of over 1000 euros for a first offence are normal.

Burka: Banned in Public

Denmark still has over a year to go until its next parliamentary elections, but existing coalition government are already campaigning for a "zero vision" stance: a goal to reduce the number of asylum applicants in the country to zero.

Geert Wilders Collapses Coalition Government

Dutch nationalist leader, Geert Wilders has withdrawn his Freedom Party (PVV) from the Dutch coalition government, causing it to collapse, and prepare for a new general election.

"The PVV promised voters the strictest asylum policy ever," including a proposal to "close the borders to asylum-seekers," Wilders told reporters Tuesday morning. When his coalition partners refused to sign up to the plans, "I had no choice but to say: We rescind support for this Cabinet," he said. He added: "I signed up to the strictest asylum policy, not the downfall of The Netherlands."

PARTIJ VOOR DE VRIJHEID

The Pros and Cons of Immigration

By: BB

Many nationalists believe that the mass migration of recent years is part of a deliberate plot to undermine our country. That may be true, but I think that it's more likely to be about cheap labour. Capitalists. have no morals and no sense of racial identity. They don't care about the social consequences of bringing in millions of incompatible aliens, they are only interested in maximizing their profits.

We are told that we need immigrants because of our low birth-rate. The National Health Service is often used as an example of our dependence on imported labour. While it's true that our hospitals employ lots of foreigners, it's also true that they treat lots of immigrant patients. The fact is that immigrants get sick and grow old just like us.

There are good and bad aspects to immigration. Some immigrants are a positive asset to the country but others are a drain on our economy.

We should accept highly qualified immigrants but we don't need unskilled labourers who often end up living on benefits or committing crime.

The first candidates for deportation should be the thousands of immigrants serving prison sentences, followed by those who make no attempt to integrate into British society.

On the one hand we are told that we need immigrants to do the work that Britons don't want to do, but on the other hand we expect Artificial Intelligence and robotics to take over many of our jobs.

We should address the demographic problem by encouraging British couples to have more children.

This could be done by tax incentives and the provision of nursery facilities. At present people can't afford to have children.

The natural right of procreation is being denied to our men and women by politicians who are happy to waste billions of pounds in foreign aid.

And, as well as increasing our birth rate we should make full use of available labour.

We Must Encourage British Couples to Have More Children

We fought two world wars with hardly any immigrants in the country. While the men were in the armed forces our women worked in offices, fields and factories.

We did it then and we could do it again!

 Latest figures from the Department for Work and Pensions reveal that benefit claims by refugees has risen by one third, to £1.1 billion a year, up from £828 million in the previous year.

Summer Solstice

A sacred day in the Pagan calendar of our North European ancestors

The Summer Solstice, or midsummer's day, is the longest day of the year, when the time between sunrise and sunset is at its maximum. After the Summer Solstice daylight time gradually reduces as winter creeps in. To our North European ancestor, this was a time of celebration, for long daylight hours meant longer time in the fields and forests, hunting and growing crops for winter. Depending on the shift in the calendar, the Summer Solstice occurs between June 20th and June 22nd. This year it is June 21st.

While it was still dark, our ancestors made their way to sacred sites, and gathered inside a ring of stones, ritually placed on directions from the wise men of the tribe. Once set, the stones would remain often for centuries. Many of these stone circles remain today, the best preserved being Stonehenge in Wiltshire.

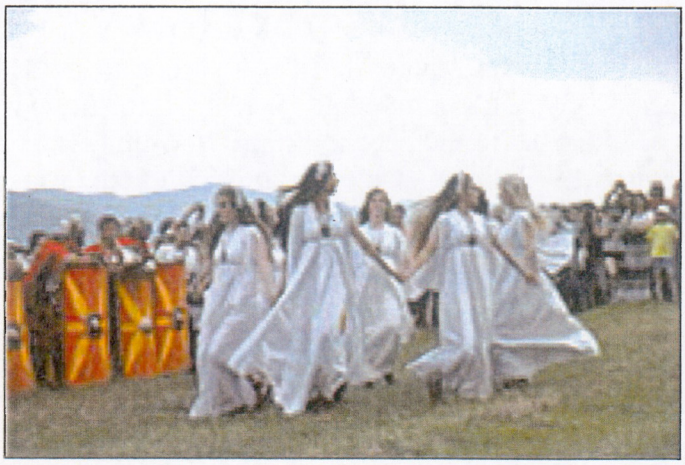
As the first rays of the sun appeared through the sacred circle, a great cheer would rise from the crowd, and the wise ones or priests, would light a sacred bonfire.

The Sun appears above the sacred circle

The day would be spent feasting and dancing, with young men testing their courage in jumping through the flames from the bonfire and walking across hot ashes. The bonfire was a vital part of the celebration as it was believed to keep evil spirits away. For this was a really spiritual event, when "magic" herbs such as Calendula and St John's Wort, both with powerful healing powers, could be safely gathered by the wise women of the tribe, for the making of potions to heal the sick. Prayers were said, asking the Gods for a successful harvest and a mild winter. Good health for the family and good luck and prosperity for the tribe were also asked.

As with many Pagan festivals, the Christian church adopted the Summer Solstice as "St John's Day", the alleged birthday of Saint John the Baptist. But this was not widely accepted, and priests often complained that on midsummer's day "those who claim to be Christians prefer to spend the day celebrating at the bonfire rather than going to church".

Today, the solstice is still widely celebrated in Northern Europe. In Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, midsummer's day is a public holiday. In Sweden and Finland a public holiday is on a fixed date, June 24th. People flock to the countryside, light bonfires, hold feasts and perform traditional dances until sunset.



Maidens perform traditional dances

For Britons it is more awkward to celebrate the solstice. As it is not a public holiday, most people have to spend their day at work. But it is still possible to rise early to watch the arrival of the midsummer sun. In the evening a candle can substitute for the sacred bonfire and a walk outside to watch the setting sun is not beyond most folk. Remember to offer prayers for your family and kith and kin, and give thanks to the Gods for their gifts.

In this multi-faith society it is vital that you do not abandon your individual spiritual heritage.

Blessed Be!

The author is a member of an Essex-based Pagan group, and has studied and practiced various forms of Paganism for over 30 years.
